RAYMOND LLOYD THOMAS, 258 Southeast Bangsberg Road, Port Charlotte, Florida, (813) 625-5058, a white male born January 11, 1907, advised as follows, after being advised of the identity of the interviewing agent, both verbally and by show of credentials, and of the purpose of the interview.

THOMAS was President of SOUTHERN AIRWAYS OF TEXAS in Mineral Wells, Texas, and confirmed the main function of the company was training all entry-level military helicopter pilots. THOMAS is not aware of any employees' paychecks being reduced by $150.00, or any amount, to cover any type of political contributions to Senator JOHN TOWER or on his behalf, or to anyone else. He is not aware of any written or verbal instructions in that regard. He is not aware of anyone being reimbursed for any such $150.00 deduction from his paycheck.

THOMAS is not aware of any SOUTHERN AIRWAYS employees being asked to contribute $200.00 to Senator TOWER's campaign or on his behalf. He is not aware of any arrangements with a Mineral Wells bank to loan SOUTHERN AIRWAYS employees the $200.00 if they needed the money. He is not aware of any employee of his company being asked for any campaign contributions for JOHN TOWER or on his behalf. If any such contributions or arrangements were made through his company, he should have known, and he is not aware of any at all.

THOMAS did have three or four contacts with Senator TOWER. These were at meetings or appearances of TOWER in Mineral Wells, where he may have been introduced to Senator TOWER and shook his hand. THOMAS never had any private conversations with Senator TOWER, and did not know him very well.

THOMAS recalled that there was a fear of moving the Fort Wolters operation during the Vietnam War, but thought it was around 1966, or at least not around any time that Senator TOWER was running for re-election. TOWER did make a few trips to Mineral Wells to assure the townspeople that he was trying to keep the Fort Walters facility open. THOMAS recalled Senator TOWER stating in one of his addresses to the townspeople that he had just talked to the President that day, and he told the President that, if they did not keep the Fort Walters base open, he, TOWER, would be dead in Texas. TOWER also stated he was doing what he could to keep the base open. TOWER was just trying to show what he was doing for the Texas community, which was dependent upon the base.

The base actually did not close until the end of the Vietnam War, around 1972. By that time there was very little need for the entry pilot helicopter training program, and most of SOUTHERN AIRWAYS' program had been phased out at that point. What was left ended up being transferred to Fort Rucker, Alabama. SOUTHERN AIRWAYS, at that point, just went out of business.

THOMAS admitted that, if the base had closed during the initial threat during the Vietnam War, he stood to lose a lot because his company was geared to the base. THOMAS at one time accompanied a Texas state senator to meet with Governor CONNOLLY of Texas to try to keep the base open. THOMAS was trying as hard as anyone else to try to keep the facility open, but he never had any dealings with Senator TOWER other than those described above.

THOMAS, himself, did not recall making any political contributions to TOWER's campaign, and does not recall anyone soliciting same from him. A long time has passed since then, but THOMAS does not really recall any contributions at this time.

THOMAS also does not recall any townspeople being solicited for contributions to TOWER's campaign. THOMAS commented that, if TOWER needed any money, he would not have to solicit SOUTHERN AIRWAYS employees or the townspeople of Mineral Wells.

THOMAS knows [redacted] but was not aware of any solicitations by [redacted] for Senator TOWER's campaign contributions, nor did he know of any association [redacted] had with Senator TOWER or his campaign.

b7c

THOMAS is not aware of any other derogatory or disreputable information regarding Senator TOWER. He has been following the news regarding Senator TOWER's appointment. THOMAS was even surprised about TOWER's drinking problems, as alleged in the media, because he did not even see Senator TOWER take one drink while he was visiting Mineral Wells, and there was plenty of opportunity for such activity.

SPECIAL INQUIRY

Synopsis:

HARRY J. GRAY, former Chief Executive Officer, UNITED TECHNOLOGIES CORPORATION (UTC), advised he was introduced to Senator JOHN TOWER during the mid 1970's by [REDACTED] [REDACTED] UTC, Government Affairs. GRAY indicated that for the next approximate 15 years he would meet TOWER at affairs sponsored by the United States Government or private enterprise and at no time did he observe TOWER to be inebriated or out of control. GRAY is of the opinion that former Senator TOWER's drinking or use of alcohol does not make him susceptible to compromise, lead to him divulging sensitive information, or in any way effect his ability to perform as Secretary of Defense. GRAY recommends TOWER to the position of Secretary of Defense and is of the opinion TOWER would do an excellent job. In 1983, GRAY recommended [REDACTED] to be selected as [REDACTED] UTC. GRAY can not recall discussing with [REDACTED] a telephone call allegedly received by [REDACTED] from [REDACTED] wherein [REDACTED] demanded contributions from UTC top executives. GRAY does not recall making a personal contribution to Senator TOWER's campaign and, if necessary, advised he would go through his cancelled checks for 1983, if requested to do so by the FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION (FBI). GRAY recalls that Senator TOWER travelled with UTC executives on the UTC jet to West Germany in 1983, and while in his company, both on the aircraft and at affairs in West Germany, he never noted Senator TOWER to be inebriated. Additionally, GRAY is unaware of any honorarium paid to TOWER to induce him to travel to West Germany. GRAY has serious reservations about [REDACTED] recollection of events concerning [REDACTED] employment at UTC and questions [REDACTED] credibility concerning [REDACTED] was fired by GRAY in September, 1984, for acting outside the scope of UTC policy in attempting to commit UTC to a $700 million contract without having the proposal first passed upon by the Board of Directors.

161A-HQ-20403

DETAILS:

INTERVIEW OF HARRY J. GRAY, 2/17/89, PAGE 2

GRAY cannot recall what it was that Senator TOWER drank; however, does recall that his drink was clear. He in attempting to recall what it was that Senator TOWER drank indicated that Senator TOWER was not drinking a dark brown drink (bourbon) or a light brown drink (scotch).

In his opinion, former Senator TOWER's drinking or use of alcohol does not make him susceptible to compromise, lead to the divulging of sensitive information or in any way effect his ability to perform as Secretary of Defense.

GRAY advised on those occasions when he met Senator TOWER at affairs in Washington, D.C., if he were to discuss business with Senator TOWER, Senator TOWER would caution him that he does not wish to discuss business at the particular affair at which they were attending and would suggest that the matter be brought up with him at a more private time and location, such as their offices. On those occasions when he spoke with Senator TOWER at TOWER's offices, GRAY noted that Senator TOWER was a good listener, and he was an individual who would never commit himself to any of the business proposals which GRAY presented to him regarding GRAY's obvious pitch for defense contract work for UTC.

He considered Senator TOWER to be an individual who made the best utilization of his time and did not consider him to be a time waster. In all of the contacts that he has had with Senator TOWER, whether they be socially or in a business setting, he cannot recall over the past approximate 15 years anything which would indicate any impropriety or activity which would be considered inappropriate. He considered TOWER to be a very perceptive individual, and notes that TOWER is a very quiet individual, who spends more time listening than he does talking. He indicated that Senator TOWER is the type of individual who readily can get to the heart of the matter without being confused by the chaff. GRAY recommends TOWER to the position of Secretary of Defense, and is of the opinion that TOWER would do an excellent job.

In 1983, GRAY recommended to the Board of Directors, UTC, Hartford, Connecticut, that [redacted] formerly with [redacted] [redacted] be selected for [redacted] of UTC, Hartford, Connecticut. [redacted] would be directly responsible to him and he would [redacted] of UTC, to include PRATT AND WHITNEY AIRCRAFT and SIKORSKY AIRCRAFT; however, he would have no control over the service companies which comprise such entities as OTIS ELEVATOR COMPANY and several other service companies.

In September, 1984, GRAY [redacted] from his position at UTC. He indicated that the reason [redacted] was that he was acting far beyond his responsibility [redacted] of UTC and operating outside of the policies of UTC. [redacted] was about ready to commit UTC to a business proposition which would have obligated UTC to a commitment [redacted]. At that time, UTC policy was such that any business commitment on the part of UTC which was to exceed $50.0 million was to be brought to the attention of the Board of Directors for UTC, who would then decide whether the corporation would proceed in that vein. [redacted] attempted to go around the Board of Directors to commit UTC far beyond the dollar amount in their existing policy and thereafter [redacted].

GRAY advised that he has learned that subsequent to [redacted] [redacted] had made a list of improprieties which GRAY had allegedly perpetrated as CEO of UTC, and the 37 allegations which [redacted] had made resulted in an 11 month investigation to determine whether GRAY should retain his security clearance or not. Several allegations made by [redacted] against GRAY included cover-up of murders at UTC facilities.

An allegation made by [redacted] indicating that in 1983 he received a telephone call from [redacted] demanding that a contribution be made on the part of the Executives of UTC to Senator TOWER's re-election campaign was discussed with GRAY. GRAY indicated that he cannot recall discussing with [redacted] a telephone call which was made to [redacted] by the [redacted]. He indicated that if any telephone call like that would have been made, it would have been made to him and not [redacted]. He indicated further that a telephone call like that from [redacted] would have been highly out of character by [redacted]. He indicated that he knows [redacted] personally and cannot think of any instance where [redacted] would be soliciting funds for an incumbent Senator.

GRAY advised that as a result of the alleged conversation that [redacted] had with [redacted] he is not aware of making a personal contribution to the re-election campaign of Senator TOWER in 1983, and questions why this would have been solicited from him in 1983 for a campaign in 1984.

He advised that if the FBI thought it necessary for him to review his personal checks for the year 1983, he would be happy to do so in an attempt to locate a check for $1,000 or any amount for that matter to support TOWER's re-election.

GRAY does not recall any instance where [] represented UTC in either Dallas or Houston, and presented personal checks written by UTC Executives to TOWER in support of his re-election. b6 b7C

GRAY advised that UTC on an annual basis travels to Germany with their corporate officers and conducts what has been dubbed by UTC Executives the NORTH ATLANTIC ROUND TABLE. On those occasions when the UTC aircraft is not fully loaded, invitations are given to United States Government officials who are also going to be in attendance in West Germany to ride cost free on the UTC aircraft. During 1983, GRAY recalls that Senator TOWER was invited to ride on the UTC aircraft to Germany. He advised that while in Germany, TOWER attended several of the affairs and at no time did he ever note that TOWER was inebriated, out of control or in any way under the influence of alcohol.

Regarding the trip to Germany, GRAY is unaware of any honorarium paid to Senator TOWER to induce him to travel to West Germany with UTC. He advised to the best of his recollection, TOWER had business other than the UTC ROUND TABLE and recalls that TOWER in addition to attending ROUND TABLE affairs, also conducted business while he was in Europe. This business was United States Government related and had to do with TOWER's position on the SENATE ARMED SERVICES COMMITTEE.

GRAY advised that he has serious reservations about [] recollection of events concerning his employment at UTC and questions [] credibility concerning [] []

There was marijuana at the party, and LR T-1 saw Senator TOWER smoke marijuana. LR T-1 does not remember how much marijuana Senator TOWER smoked, but it was definitely more than one puff.

VERNE ORR, 1444 Hillcrest Avenue, Pasadena, California, telephone (818) 796-6526, was telephonically contacted following a visit to his residence on February 17, 1989 which determined that he was unavailable for interview until February 21, 1989. ORR stated that in the past Secretary of the Air Force, he went to many functions that had Senator JOHN TOWER present. ORR did not recall that TOWER had ever been inebriated and had always been in complete control of himself.

As a policy, ORR never attended parties that would hint of a conflict of interest and did not visit one held by the Hughes Aircraft Company on the night in question.

ORR did not know the name nor has he been placed in any situation that would make him believe the "womanizing" allegation was true.

[redacted] was contacted at his office. After being advised of the identities of the Agents and the nature of the interview, [redacted] freely provided the following information:

The interview concerned JOHN TOWER (the appointee) who has been nominated by United States President GEORGE BUSH to be Secretary of Defense.

[redacted] has known the appointee since about 1960. Both [redacted] and the appointee have long been members of the Republican Party in politics, though [redacted] noted the two were not always allies and have had opposing views during certain political primary contests. While [redacted] and the appointee have not visited each other's home, they have spent time together socially in hotels, meetings and functions over the years.

[redacted] while not always agreeing with the appointee on issues, has always supported and admired him. The appointee is a man of character and the utmost honesty. The appointee's associates are all good people and [redacted] has no reason to doubt the integrity of any of them. The appointee holds unquestioned loyalty to the United States and its form of government and is one of the strongest supporters of the country. The appointee has the ability to carry out the duties of the position for which he is being considered. [redacted] described the appointee as articulate and knowledgeable on defense matters.

The appointee enjoys a good reputation with [redacted] personally, however [redacted] was aware that among other individuals the appointee is considered to drink alcohol excessively and to be a womanizer. [redacted] pointed out that he recalled the appointee in earlier times (e.g. 1960s) to drink more than he does now, and to have a liking for ladies. [redacted] felt the word "womanizer" was too strong a term to be applied to the appointee.

_____ has not known the appointee to have sexual relations with other women. Since he and the appointee have traveled and spent time together, _____ said the appointee would have had to have taken steps to hide such affairs if they occurred. _____ had no direct or indirect knowledge of the appointee being a womanizer or behaving chauvinistically toward women. _____ knows the appointee to enjoy a good reputation among women.

_____ does not know the appointee to consume illicit narcotic drugs or to use prescription medications. _____ advised he did not know any derogatory information about the appointee and that the appointee has not engaged in conflict of interest situations.

[redacted] was able to recall during the interview that in or around 1969-1970 certain Federally built housing projects were planned for certain communities in West Texas, perhaps near or in the cities of Big Spring or Pecos. These projects were the result of plans put forth during the preceding Democratic Party presidency of LYNDON JOHNSON. As [redacted] recalled it, the appointee was then a United States Senator from Texas and was involved in trying to assemble a group of individuals to sponsor such public housing projects. These sponsors would then build the projects that would be paid for by the Federal government. Each sponsor was expected to profit by approximately 10% for his efforts.

[redacted] declined to be a sponsor for the projects because he was opposed to Federal housing programs as a matter of principle. Some other republican party members did sponsor these projects, however. [redacted] pointed out that there was nothing improper with participating in such a project and that the appointee's efforts in gathering sponsors was nothing more than what every other Senator has done. [redacted] stated it is possible [redacted] was a sponsor for such a housing project. It would also not surprise [redacted] that these sponsors would include contributors to the appointee's election campaigns since such people would have been contributors all along. In any event, the appointee did not personally profit from the housing project to [redacted] knowledge. [redacted] did not know of any SBA or HUD loan proceeds being used in such housing projects.

(Note: Upon returning to the office, [redacted] telephoned Agent [redacted] to state that while he was still unfamiliar with DRG, it may be possible that such was the name of an affiliation of individuals. G may have stood for [redacted] D for [redacted] of Waco, Texas; and R for [redacted] an [redacted] from El Paso, Texas.)

[redacted] had no reservation about recommending the appointee for the position.

During early 1970, exact date unrecalled, [redacted] was a Flight Commander for Southern Airways of Texas, Incorporated (SAT) at Fort Walters, located at Mineral Wells, Texas. During a Section Commanders Meeting, a representative of SAT, name unrecalled, informed the group that Fort Walters was "on the hit list" for closing. Senator TOWER was in favor of keeping the Base open and SAT employees wanted approximately $120 from each flight's "safety money" to support TOWER. There was a support rally held at the Holiday Inn in Mineral Wells, Texas, which [redacted] did not attend. [redacted] did not like the company telling the Flight Commanders that the contribution had to be made; however, [redacted] is sure that he and all other Flight Commanders instructed that the money be contributed.

[redacted] explained that the "safety money" is made up of $125 to $150 given to each flight when a class completes a course without an accident. The money is given to each flight by SAT and each flight keeps the money to pay for parties and flight functions. None of the money came from the Commanders of the flights instructor pilots or other employees. [redacted] was certain that he would recall if any unauthorized deductions for any type of political contribution had been taken from his salary. [redacted] further commented that had the money been taken from his salary it would have been taken from other Flight Commanders and Flight Instructors; he is sure there would have been alot of talk and complaining. [redacted] specifically stated that he does not recall [redacted] complaining to him about any unauthorized deduction.

[redacted] volunteered that of all of the pilots that he had under his supervision he would have picked Instructor Pilot [redacted] as the individual that would make such a complaint.

[redacted] recalled that Instructor Pilot [redacted] was in charge of the "safety money" and may be able to offer additional information. [redacted] currently resides in Fort Worth, Texas, home telephone number [redacted] work telephone number [redacted]

Following the 1970 elections, TOWER's campaign fund team, [REDACTED] met in January, 1971, to begin planning his reelection campaign for 1972. As it was too early to formally announce his campaign, the Friends of John Tower (FOJT) Organization was formed to begin building financial support for the coming campaign. [REDACTED] was listed as the [REDACTED] the Organization with [REDACTED] at the time) listed as [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] listed as [REDACTED]. FOJT set up offices in a business building at the intersection of 15th Street and Guadalupe in Austin. In April, 1971, FOJT sponsored a fund raiser which was held in Dallas. This took the form of a testimonial banquet, the "Decade of Service" dinner to honor TOWER's achievements in the U.S. Senate. [REDACTED] could not recall if the banquet was $50.00/plate or $100.00/plate, but remembered the affair was a phenomenal success. It was recognized as the most successful Republican Party fund raiser held in Texas to that date, and approximately $200,000.00 was raised at this event. FOJT also managed to obtain contributions from other sources, including funds from regular contributors to TOWER's political activities. Prior to the campaign, these funds were used to pay for TOWER's travel to various Republican party meetings and events which could not properly be charged to the government.

[REDACTED] was absolutely positive that at no time did the campaign receive any extremely large contributions from a single individual or organization. Later in the campaign, [REDACTED] accompanied [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] on a flight across the state to personally pickup the larger contributions and she recalled no contributions in excess of $5,000.00. She was familiar with [REDACTED] describing him as a successful [REDACTED] who had been appointed to an [REDACTED] by President RICHARD NIXON. To her knowledge, [REDACTED] was a regular contributor to TOWER's campaign, but she believed he never gave more than $1,000.00 at any one time.

In April, 1972, TOWER formally announced his candidacy for reelection and his campaign organization Texans for Tower (TFT), was formed. [REDACTED] of FOJT transferred approximately $250,000.00, most of which had been raised at the "Decade of Service" dinner in Dallas from FOJT to TFT. FOJT was duly registered with the Office of the Secretary of the United States Senate and [REDACTED] also duly reported the transfer of funds from FOJT to TFT. New federal campaign laws went into effect in 1972, and [REDACTED] recalled that particular efforts were made to maintain accurate records of the contributors and the amount they had contributed in order to ensure compliance with the new laws.

After the election, the Political Action Organizations Common Cause (CC) made allegations that TOWER had received $200,000.00 in improper contributions from "campaign angels." [REDACTED] explained a "campaign angel" is a single, extremely wealthy individual or organization that pledges a huge contribution to a candidate before the campaign is initiated. This serves as a guarantee the campaign will be sufficiently financed in the event anticipated contributions during the campaign prove deficient. As a result of efforts to enforce the new law and the CC allegations, FOJT and TFT were examined by two separate federal agencies. [REDACTED] recalled one agency was the General Accounting Office (GAO) and she believed the other was the Internal Revenue Service (IRS). Both investigations proved the CC allegations to be incorrect, and that the $200,000.00 came from the FOJT "Decade of Service" dinner in Dallas. Fortunately, FOJT was able to provide complete financial records concerning the contributions despite a fire which destroyed most of their offices at the intersection of 15th Street and Guadalupe. The financial records were maintained in [REDACTED] office, which was away from the center of the fire, in a metal file cabinet, so they received minimal damage. [REDACTED] had also made a deposit in FOJT's account at the First City Bank, Austin, on the day of the fire, so no funds were lost beyond $20.00 or $30.00 maintained as petty cash. [REDACTED] office, where the campaign records were maintained, was a total loss, but she was in the habit of maintaining duplicates of the important records in her home, so these were available for inspection. She did not know where the financial records from the campaign were stored at the present, as she did not work directly with those files. She advised [REDACTED] being the former treasurer of FOJT, would be the person most likely to know of their location.

[REDACTED] has not had too much contact with TOWER since 1973, but she is a great admirer of the man. She described him as a "great American" who is very devoted to the United States and has long demonstrated a great interest in the military. She always considered TOWER a "brilliant" man and has seen him exhibit exceptional powers of memory on occasion. She also considered TOWER a person of scrupulous honesty. To [REDACTED] knowledge, TOWER was a professor of government prior to his election to Congress, and did not enter office as a wealthy man. Due to his position on committee's overseeing the banking industry, he divested himself of any investments he may have had and precluded himself from making any new investments in order to avoid even an appearance of impropriety. It was considered a matter of some amusement in Texas that in the late 1970s TOWER was still driving, and still making payments on, an old Buick automobile he had purchased in the early 1970s. [REDACTED] reported this was not surprising, however, as TOWER was maintaining residences in Washington and Texas at the time, as well as providing college educations for his three daughters. In her opinion, TOWER probably left the U.S. Senate in the same financial condition as when he entered.

[REDACTED] pointed out one incident indicative of TOWER's integrity. [REDACTED] and other members of the campaign staff had pushed TOWER and his family to make a large amount of personal appearances across Texas on numerous weekends, and the TOWER family had accepted the grueling schedule without complaint. After the election [REDACTED] was present at a meeting with TOWER.

[REDACTED] and [REDACTED] TOWER's [REDACTED] owned a condominium in Acapulco, Mexico, which he had offered to TOWER for a post-election vacation with his family. [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] in light of the hard work during the election by the TOWER family, were urging TOWER to take advantage of the offer. Sensing TOWER was not able to provide air fare for his family to Mexico from his personal finances, they suggested providing the fare from approximately $25,000.00 in campaign contributions which were held back for post-election expenses. In the past, it had been customary to use campaign funds for short rest and recreation trips awarded to overworked staff members, but TOWER questioned the propriety of such an expenditure under the new federal election laws. Finally [REDACTED] said, "Go ahead and take the vacation, who will know?" TOWER looked straight at [REDACTED] and said, "I will." That was the end of the conversation and TOWER did not take the vacation.

During the years [REDACTED] was closely associated with TOWER, she never observed him to have problems with excessive consumption of alcoholic beverages. She did note he was involved in the Washington "cocktail scene" for over 20 years, due to his position, but she never knew of alcohol consumption ever interfering with performance of his Senatorial duties. During those years, she never had reason to believe that TOWER was unfaithful to his wife in any way. She stated that TOWER would usually be in Texas for a limited amount of time while he was a senator and that staff meetings would often be held at unusual times and in unusual places to maximize TOWER's availability. Breakfast and dinner meetings in restaurants were common, as were meetings in motel suites and airport lounges. [REDACTED] was familiar with "Forty Acres Club" in Austin, and advised TOWER had often stayed at this facility while in Austin. He found it convenient to be able to have his meals in the restaurant, just downstairs from his room, without having to leave the premises. [REDACTED] was never aware of any inappropriate behavior by TOWER during his stays there. She pointed out that most of TOWER's staff members were female, due to the nature of the business conducted by the office, and he would often be seen in their company as they had the various staff meetings while he was in Austin. But to her knowledge, TOWER spent the remainder of the time with his wife.

In [REDACTED] opinion, TOWER has always been a person of good character, associates, and reputation. She described him as a "party loyalist" who always attended the State Republican Executive Committee meetings in Texas. As an employer, he was willing to delegate responsibility while at the same time maintaining an awareness of the office operations and he was sensitive to the welfare of his staff. In his personal life, [REDACTED] never knew TOWER to use illegal drugs, abuse alcohol or to engage in any conduct which would interfere with the performance of his elected or appointed duties. He was always scrupulously honest in meeting his financial obligations, as well as circumspect in his sources of income. TOWER always displayed an unabiding loyalty to the United States, as well as an impressive knowledge and understanding of his professional duties. [REDACTED] highly recommended TOWER for the position of Secretary of Defense.

He was not involved in the investigation and does not know the whereabouts of the original investigator, [redacted]

The fire was discovered and reported at about 11:30 p.m. on May 9, 1972. By the time it was brought under control, extensive damage had been done to the first and second floors of the building, especially the Tower Campaign offices. The report indicated that the fire was originally thought to have been caused by a firebomb thrown through the front window of the office. A security guard in the back of the building heard what he thought was something being thrown through the window, followed by an explosion. Witnesses on the outside of the building however, stated that the fire was already going in the office area and that the windows broke as a result of the heat generated from within. Two Austin Police Detectives observed a long-haired male subject throw a rock through one of the windows after they had arrived, but the fire was already going and they were unable to apprehend him. In addition, the anti-war movement was quite active in this area and it was immediately assumed that this fire was related to other firebombings that had occurred in the area.

Further investigation by [redacted] led him to conclude that the fire was actually caused by an overheating light fixture in the ceiling of the first floor. Arson was therefore ruled out and the case was closed.

The report also contains the newspaper clippings of the incident as it was reported in the Austin American Statesman. The Austin Fire Department still maintains the original report in their files. A copy of it has been made available to the Bureau.

T-2 was advised of the identity of the interviewing Agent and the purpose of the interview being conducted. T-2 provided the following information:

During the late 1960's and early 70's, T-2 worked closely with Senator TOWER and was in a position to observe both his professional and personal conduct.

When questioned about specific allegations that Senator TOWER, on one occasion, became quite drunk, took his clothes off, danced on a piano, and smoked marijuana, T-2 emphatically stated that it never happened.

From 1968-70, T-2 was in a position to observe Senator at the Forty Acres Club in Austin. On numerous occasions T-2 observed him drinking to the point of passing out. In addition, he engaged in a variety of intimate affairs with his female staff members. T-2 was unable to provide information on specific instances due to the passage of time but indicated that they were common place happenings at the time.

During the 1972 election, T-2 was privy to information about who was donating money to the TOWER campaign. T-2 indicated that there were a number of donors who made contributions but ~~that none of the contributions were large~~. T-2 was familiar with [redacted] and described him as a friend of TOWER's and a Republican Party leader in the El Paso area. T-2 does not recall that he made any substantial contributions to the campaign fund in 1972. T-2 stated that, despite his personal excesses, Senator TOWER's professional integrity was uncompromising and T-2 doubts that he would have had anything to do with a contribution that might have even appeared improper.

T-2 characterized the TOWER of 15 years ago as a man who took his governmental responsibilities very seriously and performed his official duties in a manner that was beyond reproach. T-2 was always impressed with the fact that he would always vote according to what he felt was right and would not let special interest groups ie., defense contractors, sway his vote. His personal integrity, however, was a different matter and T-2 feels that his drinking and numerous extramarital affairs may have put him in a compromising situation. T-2 feels that he is one of the most qualified persons for the position of Secretary of Defense, but is afraid that his personal habits and problems will interfere. T-2 believes that TOWER is a loyal citizen of the United States and has never had reason to doubt that loyalty. T-2 has never known him to smoke marijuana and doubts that he would ever use illegal drugs as he has strong feelings against them. T-2 would not recommend him for a sensitive position of trust within the United States Government.

[redacted]
The White House
Washington, D.C. 20500

Dear [redacted]

I am concerned about the repeated failures of the Executive Branch to provide documents required by the Committee in connection with its consideration of the nomination of Senator John Tower to be Secretary of Defense, particularly with regard to alleged misconduct in Geneva.

In response to our request in January, the Air Force provided us with the Air Force Office of Special Investigations file on [redacted] who had served with the delegation in Geneva. Information had been brought to our attention indicating that a file on [redacted] might contain material alleging misconduct on Senator Tower's part in Geneva. The file provided by the Air Force contained no adverse information concerning Senator Tower.

We have subsequently learned that the file provided to us was not complete. The FBI Report of February 20 states that the Air Force OSI Report on [redacted] consists of four components, only three of which were provided to us. The fourth component is missing and there is no explanation.

Another problem concerning the Air Force OSI file is that it does not contain a Memorandum to the OSI, which was subsequently provided to by a different agency, which suggests misconduct on the part of Senator Tower. This memorandum is directly related to the [redacted] investigation, yet it was not in the Air Force OSI file on [redacted].

On January 20, we asked your office to determine whether there was a file on [redacted] at the Office of Personnel Management, the Arms Control and Disarmament Agency, or the Department of State. Your office advised us that no such file existed.

Two weeks later, after publication of a newspaper report purporting to quote from a report on [redacted] (that had not been made available to the Committee), we again raised the issue and were subsequently advised your office that there was indeed a file on [redacted] maintained by the Office of Personnel Management.

On February 6, 1989, I requested that the FBI determine who at OPM was responsible for the initial failure to provide the file in January and whether there was any tampering with the file. We also noted that it was "imperative that the FBI determine whether there are any other files on [redacted] at any other agency that have not been previously examined," and I asked that we be advised as to whether these files contain any information on Senator Tower. b6

Your office provided us with the OPM file, which contained a memorandum to the Air Force OSI alleging misconduct on the part of Senator Tower. That memorandum was not in the file provided to us by the Air Force. As I noted to you in a letter dated February 17: "This leaves open questions as to the origin of the document, the reasons it was not included in the OSI file, and the circumstances under which it was obtained and considered by OPM. These are questions that are likely to be asked as we proceed with consideration of this nomination." I urged you "to ensure that we receive a thorough and timely explanation of these matters. I await your reply on these matters."

On February 20, 1989, the House Energy and Commerce Committee provided our Committee with material that includes a six-page double-spaced statement, which appears to be from the OPM file. The six-page statement, which contains derogatory allegations concerning Senator Tower's conduct in Geneva, was not in the OPM file that you provided to us. A copy of this statement (which we provided to you Monday evening) is attached. This raises yet another question as to whether the Committee can reasonably rely on the materials provided by the Executive Branch in the nomination process. The FBI should determine, in conjunction with our prior requests, who at OPM (or elsewhere in the chain of control over these files) was responsible for deleting this material and whether there was any tampering with the file.

There are several issues regarding the FBI Report on Geneva documents which are addressed in an attachment to this letter. The attachment notes that yet another Air Force file on the [redacted] investigation has not been provided to the Committee. The FBI should attempt to: (1) locate the document and (2) determine who was responsible for deleting the material and whether there was any tampering with the file.

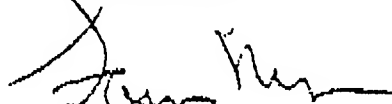

In summary, there are at least four significant matters of concern: (1) we were provided with an OSI report without being told that one of the four components was missing; (2) the OSI report does not contain a memorandum to the OSI that suggests misconduct on the part of Senator Tower, which we learned about through the media; (3) we requested an OPM Report on a specific individual and we were told that it did not exist, yet two weeks later the report appears in the media; (4) we were provided with the OPM report, yet we later determined through a copy provided by a House committee that a crucial document alleging misconduct on the part of Senator Tower was missing. In short, our requests produced files having no bearing on the suitability of the nominee, even though sources outside the Executive Branch had access to documents in the same files which contained derogatory information.

I would also like to take this opportunity to note that we have not received a response to the my letter, dated February 3, 1989, regarding the handling of the Paisley nomination.

The Committee's consideration of the nomination would be greatly aided by a prompt response to each of the issues addressed in this letter.

Sincerely,

Sam Nunn
Chairman

QUESTIONS ABOUT CERTAIN MATTERS IN THE DISCUSSION OF GENEVA IN THE FBI REPORT

The January 6 FBI report states that "ten . . . individuals, consisting of professional associates and social acquaintances, were interviewed. They advised Senator Tower is a loyal American whose character, reputation, and associates are above reproach. Among those listed as being interviewed is [redacted]"

The attached excerpt from the OPM report contains the following statement: "Ambassador John Tower, who attested to [redacted] character and loyalty, was reported to have maintained secretaries in Geneva as mistresses. [redacted] said he had independent corroboration of this, other than the information provided by [redacted] told [redacted] that Ambassador Tower's wife threw him out in February 1986 because of his involvement with secretaries and [redacted] helped Ambassador Tower find an apartment in a hotel in Geneva after Tower's wife had ejected him from their home. Ambassador Tower resigned a short time later and returned to Texas. [redacted] provided similar information to the FBI on February 18."

This raises several questions:

1. What is the explanation for the inclusion of [redacted] as a person giving a highly favorable recommendation in the January 6 report?
2. After the February 18 interview with [redacted] did the FBI discuss his views with [redacted] and [redacted] if so, what did they say? If not, why not?
3. The February 20 FBI report notes that [redacted]

The FBI report now states that [redacted]

[redacted] Why was the Committee not informed of the existence of this file? What is the explanation for the inability of the Air Force to locate the file?

[redacted] (formerly known as [redacted] Sterling, Virginia, telephone number [redacted] was advised of the identity of the interviewing agents, both by a show of credentials and orally, and the nature and purpose of the interview. [redacted] voluntarily furnished the following information regarding the appointee, JOHN GOODWIN TOWER.

She began her employment with the United Savings and Loan League (League) sometime in [redacted] and was employed as a [redacted] for GLENN TROOP, Chief Lobbyist. [redacted] stated she worked for TROOP until [redacted] when she left to begin employment at another company.

[redacted] advised that she has never met or had any contact with the appointee. She related that to the best of her knowledge GLENN TROOP and [redacted] another League Lobbyist, had little contact with the appointee. She added: "There may have been some contact." [redacted] rationalized that League Lobbyists concentrated their efforts on the House Banking Committee and not with the Senate.

TROOP was described as an ethical and bright man who did not entertain a great deal. [redacted] stated that TROOP had a drinking problem and therefore it was [redacted] who did a lot of the socializing with the political clientele.

[redacted] advised that while she was employed at the United Savings and Loan League she heard numerous accounts regarding the appointee's abuse of alcohol and sexual misconduct. She indicated that she often heard the appointee's name mentioned in routine conversations at the office. [redacted] said: "He (appointee) did not have the most sterling reputation." [redacted] emphasized that these remarks about the appointee were strictly hearsay. The people making these remarks about the appointee were viewed by [redacted] as being reliable individuals who probably saw something.

Specific accounts heard by [redacted] or the names of the people who told her of these accounts could not be recalled. [redacted] added that the majority of these accounts centered on the appointee's "eye for the ladies". She related that these rumors characterized the appointee as a "skirt chaser". [redacted] stated that other accounts dealt with the appointee's excessive use of alcohol. [redacted] never observed the appointee in an intoxicated state nor could she substantiate any of these accounts.

[redacted] related that the lobbyists had an expense account at the CARROL ARMS HOTEL. She explained that TROOP and [redacted] often dined with their guests at this hotel. She was unaware of any improprieties on the part of TROOP, [redacted] or the League with this expense account. The [redacted] was responsible for reviewing and paying all expense accounts received at the office.

[redacted] denied ever being apart of any scheme to arrange for escorts for the appointee, any other politician or their staff. She advised that she knew that certain people in Washington, D.C., specifically congressional staff members and other noted politicians, make requests of lobbyists for "a date for lunch". [redacted] stated that a person can only surmise as to what such a request meant.

Since [redacted] was responsible for entertaining at the League, [redacted] believed that if this practice of arranging escorts took place it was based on [redacted] own decision. She stated that the League would never condone such actions. [redacted] added that [redacted] was the type of person that would not attempt to involve others in such a plan.

[redacted] explained that [redacted] often joked to her and other secretaries in the office about arranging escorts for political figures. She never heard of [redacted] arranging such a "date" for the appointee. [redacted] advised that [redacted] was a "funny guy" and that she never knew when he was joking or telling the truth.

The League lobbyists were described by [redacted] as being hardworking people who tried to accomplish their jobs within the law. [redacted] stated that some "borderline" practices were done "to establish friendships; something that is sometimes hard to do in this town." [redacted] would not elaborate on these practices.

[redacted] concluded by saying that she did not believe TROOP [redacted] had a great deal of contact, if any, with the appointee while she was employed at the League. She further emphasized that any action taken by GLENN TROOP as a lobbyist was usually done because he became "buddies" with the person and not for any other reason.

The former [redacted] of [redacted] McLean, Virginia, was advised of the identity of the interviewing agents and of the fact that the Federal Bureau of Investigation was conducting a background investigation concerning JOHN GOODWIN TOWER. [redacted] was interviewed in the presence of his attorneys [redacted] and [redacted] of [redacted] in the 9th floor conference room of their offices at [redacted] Washington, D.C., and provided the following information:

When asked to comment upon the allegation that, during the Strategic Arms Reduction Talks (START), Ambassador TOWER was reported to have one or more of [redacted] as mistresses, he responded "I think it's ridiculous", mentioning that he is aware of no information which would substantiate this, and mentioning that he seriously doubts the allegation has any validity whatsoever. During the time that he was in Geneva, from [redacted] [redacted] he is aware of no extramarital affair(s) or indiscretions of any kind regarding the appointee.

When he was advised that [redacted] one of the appointee's [redacted] was receiving some of her mail at the appointee's residence in Geneva, he related that he does not find this unusual at all. He noted that because of the nature of the mission in Geneva, [redacted] frequently performed personal duties for members of the delegations, for example the appointee's [redacted] often assisted Mrs. LILLA TOWER in preparing for social functions, and were the interface between members of the delegation and their transportation. He noted that he would not even find it irregular if [redacted] had stayed overnight at the appointee's residence, although mentioning that he is unaware that such an event ever took place. As he was not in Geneva for the fourth round of negotiations, he is not in a position to comment upon [redacted] activities while the appointee was residing in [redacted] apartment in the Old Cathedral section of Geneva.

When asked as to whether he was personally aware of any sexual misconduct or indiscretions on Ambassador TOWER's part, either abroad or in this country, he responded in the negative, likewise responding to the question as to whether he was aware of any procurement of sex partners either for the appointee by a third party or by the appointee for himself or the Soviets. He stated categorically that none of the fourteen individuals listed by position or rank in his statement to the Air Force Office of Special Investigations (OSI) as having carried on extramarital affairs in Geneva could be identified with the appointee.

When advised that allegations of misappropriation of government funds regarding the transportation of spouses and dependents of high-ranking members of the Geneva delegation had been made, he commented that he felt these allegations to be largely groundless. He noted that in [REDACTED] letter to CASPAR WEINBERGER, or [REDACTED] [REDACTED] for airlift support for the delegations, wording was explicitly requested to allow the transportation of ambassadors and negotiators, their spouses and dependents, as well as their staffs. He advised that on a second plane, a C-141, the primary aircraft being a C-135B, transportation for the spouses and dependents of staff members was possible, subject to individual review, [REDACTED] and on the basis of "as space available."

When advised that mention had been made of the "well-known" beer-bash at the Pickwick, a bar in Geneva, where certain delegation members and support personnel got "smashed" with the Marines, he advised that he has no knowledge of any participation by the appointee in any activity of this kind, nor any evidence of alcohol abuse by the appointee.

When asked to provide additional details regarding cocktail parties at 4:30 p.m. on Fridays in the Botanic Building at which alcohol was served, he characterized these events as "Thank God It's Friday" get-togethers, signaling the end of a week, although noting that the delegation frequently worked through the weekend. He noted that these festivities were "sort of a morale booster" and were not a weekly event. Regarding the availability of alcoholic beverages, he noted that only wine and beer were available and that "I never saw anybody get smashed or even high." Regarding the appointee's consumption, he noted that the appointee was a member of a different delegation, and that he only observed him on a couple of occasions at this kind of get-together. He stipulated that he had observed the appointee only to drink white wine, a toast of champagne or a beer from Texas, the name of which he does not recall. He stated that he has never seen the appointee inebriated, or ever known him to slur his speech after consuming alcohol. He does not recall ever counting the number of drinks consumed by the appointee at any social function. He concluded this aspect of the interview by noting that he has never known the appointee to frequent either the Pickwick or Jimmy's, another popular local bar.

When advised that it has been suggested by some that [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] he denied that such a representation was accurate. When asked as to whether the appointee had ever asked him to [REDACTED] he responded "no ambassador asked me to [REDACTED]

He advised that [REDACTED] the [REDACTED] for the Delegation, had introduced him to [REDACTED] to whom he described the mechanations of the Delegation. He stipulated that this was the only time that he has ever spoken to [REDACTED]

When asked as to whether the appointee was reluctant initially to _____ later being brought around to doing so because of _____

he responded that such an allegation is "totally unfounded."

When asked as to whether he ever provided any questionable services to Ambassador TOWER, to include any form of entertainment, he responded "absolutely not."

b7C

When asked as to whether the appointee was, during Round Three of the START Negotiations, aware of any circumstances surrounding _____ he responded "I don't know whether he was or wasn't." He stipulated that he did not personally approach the appointee about the matter during Round Three and believes the appointee was unaware of the circumstances finding their way into the EEO complaint, and later security violations, during Round Three. He suggested that the only way that the appointee might have become aware of these events would have been if _____ had been approached by _____ and in turn, had approached the appointee. He has no knowledge of such events having transpired however. He did admit that after receiving the specifics of the complaints against him, on January 8, 1986, he approached the appointee shortly thereafter seeking his support. He noted that the appointee's response to this inquiry is contained in his own statement, of September 30, 1987, to the Department of Energy's Office of [redacted] was advised of the identity of the interviewing agent and was advised that the Federal Bureau of Investigation is currently conducting a background investigation of JOHN G. TOWER.

[redacted] advised that he was formerly employed as a [redacted] in the United States Navy. One of his assignments was the responsibility of [redacted] Naval Air Station, Corpus Christi, Texas, from [redacted] until [redacted]. [redacted] was advised by the interviewing agent that allegations have been made indicating that TOWER has abused alcohol while at the officer's club, Naval Air Station, Corpus Christi, Texas. [redacted] advised he recalls several instances where he was in the company of Senator TOWER.

[redacted] recalled that the appointee was the guest of the Navy League at one of its monthly meetings, a dinner at which TOWER gave a speech. To the best of [redacted] recollection, this occurred during the fall of 1980 or winter of 1981. He recalls the evening as one typical of many held by the Navy League. Cocktails were served, followed by dinner, speeches, and more drinks and conversation with the guest of honor. He further recalled that the appointee was accompanied by Mrs. LILLA TOWER. [redacted] clearly recalls the amount of alcohol which the appointee consumed on that occasion because, as [redacted] he felt it his responsibility to be sure the guest of honor, TOWER, had enough to drink and to be sure [redacted] was a [redacted]. He recalled that the appointee carried a wine glass throughout the evening, but it was very rarely filled. He does not recall any indication that the appointee drank an excess quantity of alcohol and [redacted] does not recall any adverse behavior on the appointee's part.

[redacted] recalled another dinner, one which occurred during the spring of 1982. On this occasion, the appointee was accompanied by [redacted]. This gathering was a

Although [REDACTED] was [REDACTED] on this occasion, he was in attendance and was certainly conscious of the alcohol consumed not only by TOWER but by [REDACTED] and the others. He can state with a great deal of confidence that the appointee did not abuse alcohol and did not display any signs of having drunk an excess quantity of alcohol. He does not recall any adverse behavior on the part of the appointee for this evening. [REDACTED] recalled that he does not believe there were any women in attendance at this party.

[REDACTED] recalled that there were two other instances where he was in attendance at a social gathering with the appointee. At one time, [REDACTED] was the Executive Officer to the Commander in Chief, Europe and TOWER was a guest at a dinner. In another instance, TOWER was being promoted within the Navy Reserve and was the guest of honor at a celebration. In both of these gatherings, as in the ones mentioned above, [REDACTED] saw no indication of alcohol abuse or excess alcohol consumption by the appointee and [REDACTED] does not recall any improper behavior on the part of the appointee. As a result of the above instances, [REDACTED] advised that he has never known the appointee to abuse alcohol or to display behavior indicating that he might have abused alcohol.

On February 22, 1989, [redacted] was interviewed at his place of employment, [redacted] Phoenix, Arizona. His business telephone number is [redacted]. His home address is [redacted] Chandler, Arizona, home telephone number [redacted].

This evening, [redacted] will be in San Francisco, California, where he is going to join his wife who is there on business and they will be staying at the [redacted] San Francisco, California, telephone number [redacted]. He will be at the [redacted] until February 25, 1989, when he will then move to the [redacted] San Francisco, California, where he will spend the rest of the weekend.

[redacted] was born on [redacted] at [redacted]. He had been employed with [redacted] as a [redacted] until April 1, 1988. [redacted] is a [redacted] of [redacted] (last name unknown) is another [redacted] and there are other [redacted].

During the first week of August, 1987, he and [redacted] had traveled on TWA to Washington, D.C. on business. They had taken a taxi to the JEFFERSON HOTEL in Washington, D.C. He and [redacted] had dinner at approximately 6:30 p.m. until probably 7:30 or 8:00 p.m. when they then proceeded to the bar. He and [redacted] and [redacted] [redacted] at the bar but there was a great deal of noise coming from behind him over his left shoulder. All three were having a conversation and someone had mentioned "Boy they're really having fun out there. They're really having a big party and enjoying themselves." [redacted] made the statement "That is JOHN TOWER and some friends." [redacted] had never seen JOHN TOWER in person but had seen several newspaper photographs of him and so when he got up to go to the bathroom, he made it a point to go in the direction of TOWER's table. He got a view of the table and he recognized former Senator TOWER at the table. There were possibly a total of four or five persons there, all men, and the Senator was very drunk, leaning on the table with his arm stretched out pointing at one of the other men at the table. He remembers having said to himself "And this was a former senator." He returned to the bar and continued conversations with [redacted] when [redacted] stated that he had seen Senator TOWER there.

many times and he has always been drinking and drunk. The staff there did not seem to be concerned about the loudness of the former senator and his group. He got the impression that that was to be expected and normal for the former senator and that they would be able to take care of him.

[redacted] name was possibly [redacted] an individual in his mid 20's or early 30's, [redacted] hair, possibly had [redacted] possibly 6', [redacted] build, 165 pounds.

[redacted] stated that he could possibly come up with the correct spelling of [redacted] name since he later had sent him a check.

[redacted] stated that from the bar he did not have visual observation of former Senator TOWER and his group to be able to determine what they were drinking. He stated he did see the waiter on several occasions go to the table with regular glasses that would give him the impression they were mixed drinks and there were no wine glasses being taken to that table. He got the impression that the mixed drinks were something like bourbon and coke. It was definitely hard liquor because the TOWER party was all drunk. He did not notice the topic of conversation because once he was told it was former Senator TOWER and his group, he tried to tune them off and not be concerned about it.

[redacted] did not see Senator TOWER drinking but he did see him and he would not describe him as being a little drunk but described him as being "blasted" drunk.

He described the party as "some good old boys" really being loud and drinking heavy.

[redacted] stated that in his opinion, a person under that type of influence of alcohol could be easily compromised and would be a person that would use bad judgment. He stated that he was not surprised when he read in the paper about the former senator's drinking problem and womanizing since he had seen him

Senator Dennis DeConcini
SH 323
Washington, DC 20510

Dear Senator DeConcini:

In light of the current state of the happenings on the appointment of John Tower as Secretary of Defense, I would feel irresponsible were I to remain silent.

I am not a frequent visitor to Washington D.C., nor have my recent visits been aimed to coincide with any events in which general celebration might have a major influence on behavior. Nevertheless, each time I have stayed in the Capitol in the past two years, I have encountered Senator Tower in the bar of the Jefferson Hotel at which I usually stay. On all of these occasions, the last as recent as this September, the Senator has been in a deep state of intoxication and conducted himself in a loud and braggadocio manner inconsistent, in my opinion, with the position he currently seeks.

Thank you for your attention. I hope you will carefully consider this aspect of Senator Tower's recent behavior, as well as his paid relationships with various defense contractors, as you make your decision on his appointment to such a critical post.

Sincerely,

HARRY J. GRAY, 11094 Beach Club Point, North Palm Beach, Florida, was advised of the identity of the interviewing Agent and that the nature of the interview was concerning JOHN GOODWIN TOWER and his nomination by President-Elect GEORGE BUSH to the position of Secretary of Defense. GRAY furnished the following information:

GRAY is presently the President of HARRY GRAY ASSOCIATES, Farmington, Connecticut, and indicated that this company is an investment company which has nothing to do with defense contract type work nor is it connected politically to the present administration in any capacity. GRAY was the former Chief Executive Officer (CEO) of UNITED TECHNOLOGIES CORPORATION (UTC), Hartford, Connecticut, from which position he resigned effective January 1, 1986. He stayed with UTC as Chairman of the Board until January 1, 1988, in order to insure that the incumbent CEO was capable of performing that position.

GRAY has known former United States Senator TOWER since approximately the mid-1970's, when TOWER was first elected as a United States Senator. He was introduced to Senator TOWER by [redacted] and who b6 b7C himself was a [redacted] During the period from the mid-1970's until he was no longer employed by UTC, he would meet TOWER frequently at affairs sponsored by corporate entities, as well as by Government entities in Washington, D.C. and overseas. While at these affairs, whether sponsored by the United States Government or private enterprise and on which occasions TOWER would be present, he at no time observed former Senator TOWER to be in a position where he considered him to be inebriated or out of control. He indicated that although he recalled that TOWER would have a drink in his hand, he never observed TOWER to gulp his beverage nor can he ever recall that while in attendance at these affairs, TOWER ever asked for a second drink. He indicated that the affairs sponsored by private enterprise generally would invite the senior members of the SENATE ARMED SERVICES COMMITTEE, as well as members of the HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES ARMED SERVICES COMMITTEE, and noted that these Government officials would stay at the affairs approximately 15 to 20 minutes and then leave.

On February 7, 1989, Mr. BOB JACKSON was interviewed by Special Agent [redacted] at the BAPTIST MEMORIAL HOSPITAL EAST, 6019 Walnut Grove Road, Memphis, Tennessee.

b7C

Mr. JACKSON was advised of the identity of the interviewing Agent and that he was being contacted regarding information that he was willing to provide regarding JOHN GOODWIN TOWER.

Mr. JACKSON provided the following information:

He advised that from 1976 to 1978, he was assigned to the NCOIC Information Office at the BERGSTROM AIR FORCE BASE, Austin, Texas. His primary duties were to coordinate and take visiting dignitaries on tour of the base facilities, specifically the aircraft.

In June, July or August of 1977, JOHN GOODWIN TOWER, then a senator from Texas, came to the base for a tour with the press and other persons (names he could not recall) in order to look at some aircraft and to observe some modifications of some of the planes. When he greeted Senator TOWER, he smelled a strong alcoholic odor on his breath and from the appearance of TOWER's eyes, he was almost intoxicated.

After greeting Senator TOWER, they (he, Senator TOWER and other persons in the group) went to one of the aircraft hangers and there he noticed Senator TOWER greeting a female mechanic working on the plane. When the senator approached the young female mechanic (name unrecalled) the mechanic stood at attention and then Senator TOWER placed his hand on her shoulder and then moved his hand down the female mechanic's back until his hand reached her hips and TOWER kept his hand there for a good while (perhaps 30 seconds) and then moved his hand. The female mechanic did not make any fuss about it.

Mr. JACKSON stated that this type of behavior did not seem right but thought no more about it, nor did he report it to anyone.

In 1978 (month or date unrecalled) TOWER and the press visited the above base again, and when he greeted TOWER, he smelled a strong aroma of alcohol again. He also noticed TOWER stumbling and having difficulty in opening a door. He advised that the type of stumbling was the type that a person under the influence of alcohol would make.

After greeting TOWER on the second visit to the above base in 1978, he escorted Senator TOWER to the Chief Maintenance Officer's office. Upon entering the office a secretary was at work at her desk and when Senator TOWER greeted her, he noticed TOWER place his hand on the secretary's shoulder and then the senator's hand slid down the secretary's chest and rested for a brief period on one of the secretary's breast. The secretary was completely startled.

Mr. JACKSON stated that this too seemed a bit unusual or out of character as this appeared more than just a casual touch.

The above two occasions were the only occasions he had contact with Senator TOWER.

He advised that when he heard on the news and read in the paper about Senator TOWER being considered for the Secretary of Defense position he felt that this information should be brought to the attention of the FBI so that Senator TOWER might be disqualified for the Secretary of Defense position.

Mr. JACKSON further stated that from the above observations of TOWER, he considers TOWER to be a drunk, a dirty old man, and one who enjoys touching women.

Mr. JACKSON advised that he is currently residing at HCR #1, Box 40-1A, Protem, Missouri 65733-9704 and has telephone number 417-785-4599.

Mr. JACKSON was born on May 6, 1930, in Memphis, Tennessee, and has Social Security number 414-42-7045, and is unemployed (retired military).

Mr. JACKSON further stated that since the above incidents happened such a long time ago, he just could not recall any of the names involved.

Reference is made to a letter furnished by your office dated February 21, 1989 from Senator Sam Nunn of the Senate Armed Services Committee and the attachment to that letter entitled "QUESTIONS ABOUT CERTAIN MATTERS IN THE DISCUSSION OF GENEVA IN THE FBI REPORT."

The following response to questions 1 and 2 set forth in Senator Nunn's attachment.

On December 8, 1988, the Office to the Counsel of the President (OCP) telephonically provided the FBI with several names, including [REDACTED] and [REDACTED]. It was suggested that the FBI interview these individuals who were allegedly knowledgeable regarding Senator Tower's activities in Geneva, Switzerland.

The names of [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] were included in suggested list of names furnished to the FBI by the White House to be interviewed and were set forth in summary memorandum to indicate to the OCP that the FBI had been responsive to this request and had conducted those interviews.

In the January 6, 1989 summary memorandum, the names of [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] are set forth immediately below the standard language utilized to summarize the results of numerous favorable interviews on a particular nominee, rather than setting forth the results of each interview separately. The Department of State cable, which set forth the results of the interview of [REDACTED] previously requested by the FBI, did not state whether or not [REDACTED] recommended Senator Tower. [redacted] name in the portion of the FBI summary of favorable interviews (supra) was an inadvertent error by the FBI, as it was assumed that [redacted] comments, if negative, would have been clearly stated. It should be noted, however that the interview was not conducted by the FBI.

In response to the second question set forth in Senator Nunn's attachment, the FBI did not discuss [redacted] views with either [redacted] or [redacted]. It has been determined that [REDACTED] claimed to have "independent corroboration" that Senator Tower maintained [REDACTED] [REDACTED] as mistresses. It is requested that [REDACTED] be questioned as to his knowledge regarding that assertion.

[REDACTED] should also be queried as to whether Senator Tower ever procured sex partners for Soviet nationals as has been alleged in recent newspaper articles and whether Senator Tower had any unauthorized contact with any foreign national.

[REDACTED] was known to have believed that START Ambassadors and other high ranking START officials wrote "character letters" on behalf of [REDACTED] for other than honest reasons. Since Senator Tower wrote a "character letter" on behalf of [REDACTED] was any "deal" made with Senator Tower in exchange for this letter? What were the terms of any such "deal"? In [REDACTED] opinion, did [REDACTED] exert any form of blackmail over Senator Tower to coerce him into writing a letter on behalf of [REDACTED]. Did [REDACTED] maintain secretive files in a safe which were used against Senator Tower? If so, what information/knowledge did [REDACTED] [REDACTED] possess regarding Senator Tower. Did Senator Tower originally refuse to write such a "character letter" and later renege? If so, why? Is [REDACTED] aware of any security violation by Senator Tower?

It is also requested that [] be asked whether he observed Senator Tower abuse alcohol. If so, he should provide the time frame as well as the amount and type of alcohol consumed.

It is requested that [] be reinterviewed as soon as possible regarding his knowledge, if any, of these allegations. It is furthered requested that you convey the results of [] interview to the FBI (Attention: Special Inquiry Unit, telephone [] or facsimile (FTS) 324-2574) as soon as possible due to the prominence of Senator Tower's nomination. The Senate is scheduled to reconvene on 2/20/89. Therefore, the FBI requests that the detailed results of [] interview as soon as possible so that any additional leads generated by the interview of [] can be conducted prior to the Senate's reconvention.

Due to the sensitivity of this allegation, it is requested that dissemination of this information be limited to those personnel who would routinely have a "need to know" or be familiar with this information in order to allow coverage of this lead.

[redacted] HENRY M. JACKSON FOUNDATION, 1001 Fourth Avenue, Suite 3317, Seattle, Washington 98154, telephone [redacted] was contacted at her place of employment. [redacted] was advised of the official identity of the interviewing Agent and the nature of the inquiry. [redacted] furnished the following information:

The HENRY M. JACKSON FOUNDATION, a nonprofit organization, arranged through COSBY BUREAU INTERNATIONAL, INC., 2162 Wisconsin Avenue Northwest, Washington, D.C., 20007, telephone (202) 833-2344, for former Senator JOHN TOWER to be the guest speaker at the foundation's first award banquet. This presentation occurred on May 16, 1988 in Seattle, Washington at the MUSEUM OF FLIGHT, where former Deputy Secretary of Defense DAVID PACKARD was given the first annual HENRY M. JACKSON FOUNDATION Distinguished Public Service Award.

The HENRY M. JACKSON FOUNDATION paid a fee of $12,500.00 to COSBY BUREAU INTERNATIONAL, INC., and was supposed to be billed for the first class air travel and expenses of JOHN TOWER. [redacted] advised that to date, COSBY BUREAU INTERNATIONAL, INC., has not billed the foundation for TOWER's air fare and, accordingly, [redacted] assumes that this was a gesture made by TOWER in recognition that this foundation is indeed a nonprofit organization.

[redacted] advised that the specific scheduling information of JOHN TOWER's Seattle visit was not readily available as staff member [redacted] would not be back to the foundation's office until Thursday, February 23, 1989. However, based on her own recollection, [redacted] advised she believes JOHN TOWER arrived at the SEATTLE-TACOMA INTERNATIONAL AIRPORT around noon on May 16, 1988 and was met by foundation staff members and taken to the SEATTLE SHERATON HOTEL which [redacted] had donated a room to the foundation for this event. [redacted] continued that at approximately 5:30PM, TOWER arrived from the SHERATON HOTEL at the MUSEUM OF FLIGHT for the award banquet which was scheduled to commence at 6:00PM. The event lasted until approximately 10:00PM, and at its conclusion, TOWER was provided transportation back to the SHERATON. [redacted] stated she believed TOWER departed Seattle on May 17, 1988.

Ground transportation was donated by THE BOEING COMPANY as arranged by a member of the foundation's Board of Directors from THE BOEING COMPANY.

[redacted] continued that she would attempt to confirm TOWER's departure by obtaining pertinent information from the limousine schedule. Due to the lateness of the hour, this information would not be available until Thursday, February 23, 1989.

In addition, [redacted] stated that she would be able to obtain the specific times of TOWER's schedule while in Seattle from staff member [redacted] on Thursday, February 23, 1989. Upon receipt, [redacted] advised she would recontact SA [redacted] and provide the scheduling information to the FBI.

HO T-3 was advised of the identity of the interviewing agent and the nature of the interview. HO T-3 was further advised of the provisions of the Privacy Act (e) (3). HO T-3 stated that he/she preferred that his/her identity not be disclosed outside the FBI. However, HO T-3 advised it would be agreeable to release his/her identity to members of the Senate Armed Services Committee if it is absolutely necessary for reasons of credibility.

HO T-3 stated that after watching news reports stating that the FBI report had "cleared" Senator JOHN TOWER on allegations of drinking and womanizing, he/she felt compelled to provide the following information. On July 8, 1988, HO T-3 and several friends were celebrating a birthday at SAN SIMEON, a french restaurant in Dallas, Texas. After dining, HO T-3's group adjourned to THE CLUB, a dance club which is part of SAN SIMEON. Senator TOWER was seated against the wall in a booth, with HO T-3's party seated approximately eight feet away. HO T-3 observed TOWER for approximately thirty to forty-five minutes.

In HO T-3's estimation, both TOWER and his date were "obviously drunk." HO T-3 thought that TOWER ordered one or two rounds of drinks during the time he/she was able to observe him, but could not tell what he was drinking. HO T-3 was not close enough to hear TOWER, or to see if his eyes were bloodshot. TOWER did not act "wildly", and did not stumble, but rather seemed to be a quiet drunk. He looked "out of it, lethargic, and comatose," and sat slumped down in the booth.

TOWER's date was wearing a black strapless cocktail dress. HO T-3 stated that one time when TOWER and his companion left the dance floor, his date tripped over HO T-3's chair, and fell to her knees. Her dress fell to her waist. She struggled to her feet, "shoving her breasts into her dress." TOWER did not act embarrassed or appalled, but simply helped his date to her feet, and returned to the booth. HO T-3 stated that this was of course quite a spectacle, and everyone in the club turned around to look.

HO T-3 stated that he/she would check business files, and provide the FBI the names and phone numbers of his/her companions the evening of July 18, 1988.
